

2011 AHCA IMPACT DAMS & SIRES

AHCA provides its members with a performance program that enables breeders to record and compare the productivity of their cow herd. Each year producers can complete a calving worksheet online or on paper which enables you to report your calves and status of your cows. By simply reporting whether your cow had a calf or not will enable your animals to be eligible to become Impact Dams or Sires, if they meet the criteria. If you also submit weaning weights on all your calves, then your cow could be recognized as an Elite Impact Dam. Following are the requirements for each status:

Impact Dams

Impact Dams are cows that have proven their productivity over time. In order to become an Impact Dam a cow must calve for the first time by the age of 3 years 4 months (1220 days) she must have had at least 4 calves and the calving interval must be 380 days or less. This recognition will stay with cows, as an asterisk (*) will be added to their registration number. Each year new animals that attain this status will be added to the list.

Elite Impact Dams

Elite Impact Dams are cows that meet the criteria of an Impact Dam, plus have had at least 3 calves whose weaning weight (205 day weight) ratio is 100 or greater. These cows have proven not only to be productive but also shown great maternal strength with above average weaning weights. They are recognized with 2 asterisks () after their registration number.

Impact Sires

Impact Sires are bulls who have sired 4 or more Impact Dams. These bulls will be noted with a plus (+) after their registration number.
